

Salt Lake County Equestrian Park Policy on Indoor Arena

The public may use arenas during open riding times. Users must display annual pass or other proof of payment. Park attendants may stop users at any time to verify proof of payment. Failure to purchase a daily or yearly pass is considered theft of services and will be handled appropriately.

- General arena etiquette is as follows; slower traffic should stay along the outside rail. Reverse (clockwise) traffic should assume the next lane to the inside of the arena. Faster traffic should assume the next lane in and so forth. Stops, spins, backing and other stationary work should be conducted in the center of the arena. Arena users shall conduct themselves professionally and exercise courtesy at all times.
- Barrels, jumps, poles and other equipment are generally not permitted during open ride times. Park attendants, based on their judgment, may allow the use of such equipment but retain the prerogative of requiring that such equipment be removed at any time.
- Park attendants may allow or disallow users to engage in certain activities relative to other arena dynamics. For instance, attendants may permit speed work provided you are the only one in the arena. However, based on congestion, novice users, novice horses, etc., attendants may prohibit such an activity at another time. Users are responsible for controlling their animals at all times. Animals may not be turned out in arenas or round pens at any time. Animals may not be tied to green panels at any time. Animals not being used should be tied to the riders horse trailer. A limited number of horses may be tied to the white rails. Dogs are not allowed in the indoor arena and must be secured on a leash at all times. No Exceptions!
- We will make every attempt to have the indoor arena watered and worked by 8am every morning during open ride days. We will also shut the arena down during the early evening hours for a water and work. Please check the monthly arena schedule for times.
